Alden MC centers everyday living between two bedroom zones, giving the owner suite separation from the secondary bedrooms. The living room opens toward the kitchen and dining room, while a peninsula organizes the kitchen without closing it off from the shared space. The owner bedroom connects to a private bathroom and two walk-in closets. Across the home, two bedrooms use a second bathroom reached from the hall. A pantry and utility room are grouped beside the kitchen. The supplied alternatives illustrate a basement stair and an expanded living and dining arrangement; those drawings represent different configurations, so their dimensions should not be treated as features of the base layout.
